It is our pleasure to invite you to attend the 48th Annual Meeting of the Scandinavian Society for Immunology and Summer School that will be held in Reykjavik, Iceland, June 12-15, 2022.

We have put together a very exciting scientific programme with excellent speakers, covering recent advances in Immunology.

The programme will be available on the website: <http://www.SSI2022.is>

We are proud to announce that this year the Summer School, with the focus on “Immune response and immunity to SARS-CoV-2”, will be combined with EFIS on Tour Symposium series, and both will give PhD students and young scientists an excellent opportunity to update their knowledge.

The registration fee includes participation in the meeting, congress materials, coffee breaks/lunch and welcome reception.

Social Events

There will be a Welcome Reception following the Plenary Talk on the 12th of June (included in the registration fee). The Congress Dinner will take place on the 14th of June with the ticket price of 16 000 ISK (~ 115 €).

To register for the congress dinner please follow the instructions when registering.

We hope to see you in Iceland June 2022
